[ 0 : 00 ]     The End The End The End

The End The End The End The End The End The End The End As you're sitting down, can I ask you to move in towards the middle of the pews there?

Because there are people coming in and we want to leave space for them to come in and sit at the end. Otherwise they'll clamber right over you and make a mess of your clothes. Well, let's bow our heads in prayer, shall we, and ask God's blessing on our time together.

Heavenly Father, we rejoice to sing of joy to this world, a joy that comes to us in your Son, the Lord Jesus Christ. We praise you that in him you have sent your King, your gracious and merciful King, to be our ruler and to be our Savior forever.

We thank you for this season of Christmas when our minds and our hearts can turn to him to sing his praise as a light in the darkness. And we ask that his presence now would be with us by your Holy Spirit to thrill our hearts and minds and fill us with the joy of his salvation.

[ 3 : 15 ]     That we too may sing for joy. For we ask it in Jesus' name. Amen. Well now, we're going to read the scriptures together.

We've been, for the last three weeks, reading in John's Gospel, chapter 1, the famous prologue. And you'll see it's printed there on your sheet for you. And I'm going to read the whole of the reading that we have there before us.

But we're concentrating, especially today, in our third study on these verses, on verses 14 to 18. So, you might like to pay special attention to those.

But I'll read from the beginning. In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word was God. He was in the beginning with God.

All things were made through him, and without him was not anything made that was made. In him was life, and the life was the light of men. The light shines in the darkness, and the darkness has not, well, understood it or overcome it.

[ 4 : 20 ]     There was a man sent from God. His name was John. He came as a witness, to bear witness about the light, that all might believe through him. He was not the light, but came to bear witness about the light.

The true light, which enlightens everyone, was coming into the world. And he was in the world, and the world was made through him, yet the world did not know him.

He came to his own, and his own people did not receive him. But to all who did receive him, who believed in his name, he gave the right to become children of God, who were born not of blood, nor of the will of the flesh, nor of the will of man, but of God.

And the word became flesh, and dwelt among us, and we have seen his glory, glory as of the only Son from the Father, full of grace and truth.

John bore witness about him, and cried out, This is he of whom I said, he who comes after me ranks before me, because he was before me. And from his fullness, we have all received grace upon grace.

[ 5 : 32 ] For the law was given through Moses, grace and truth came through Jesus Christ. No one has ever seen God. The only God, or the only Son, who is at the Father's side, he has made him known.

Well, after those sublime words from John's Gospel, we're going to sing these wonderful words of Charles Wesley and this beautiful carol. Hark, the herald angels sing, glory to the newborn King.

Hark, the herald angels sing, glory to the newborn King. Hark, the herald angels sing, glory to the newborn King.

Hark, the herald angels sing, glory to the newborn King.

Hark, the herald angels sing, glory to the newborn King. Jesus Christ, the herald angels sing, glory to the newborn King.

[ 7 : 08 ] Hark, the herald angels sing, glory to the newborn King. Hark, the herald angels sing, glory to the newborn King. Wh conversions of mine, glory to the newborn King. Hark, the herald angels sing, glory to the newborn King. Hark, the herald angels sing, glory to the newborn King. Hark, the herald angels sing, glory to the newborn King.

Hark, the herald angels sing. For thearna , O R.

The angel that you are king In the land of the glory In the power of the right to death I have a new holy land There will be a new king As the ages glorify For death and glory die God's name and God's name Come to him in the same world I have a new holy land I have a new holy land

Well do have a seat and keep your service sheets open there So you can see the words that we read from John's Gospel chapter 1 We've been looking at this for the last two or three weeks If you've been with us here at lunchtimes And we've seen that this famous beginning of John's Gospel Is really like, well it's like the opening buzz of a piece of music A symphony And John introduces all the main themes in these few verses That he's going to expand and bring back again and again All the way through the story of the Gospel of Jesus that he tells And all of his Gospel, if you like, are many variations On one of his great themes The theme of light You'll have noticed that word as we read it several times in the reading there The first few verses of this passage here Tell us that Jesus himself is the divine light of life Verse 4 there, do you see?

In him was life And that life was the light of men He is the source of all life All creation, says John, is because of him And for him Look at verse 3 Without him, nothing was made that has been made Jesus Christ, the Son of God Was with God In the very beginning Look at verse 1 He was God The word was God And not only that Although, that's pretty breathtaking in itself, isn't it?

[ 10 : 30 ] Not only that Verse 9 tells us that he appeared in history To shed his light on all people everywhere And yet, when we were looking at this last week We saw that his light is a divisive light The darkness, says verse 5 Has not Well, one translation reads Has not understood it That's why verse 10 tells us that Many people fled Jesus' light They refused him They rejected him Even when he came to his own They would rather stay in darkness Than face the light of Jesus But at the same time Neither could the light ever overcome Ever be overcome Verse 12 Look at verse 12 Isn't it a wonderful verse?

Many did receive him, says John And in doing so They received the right To become part of God's very own family Children Not naturally born, says John in verse 13 But supernaturally born Born of God And through Jesus And acceptance of him Is the only way To that intimacy Of knowing God like that Jesus is the unique source of life He's the unique light He said I am the way And the truth And the life No man comes to the Father But by me Jesus, therefore Must be the great divider Of men and women He is the person Who divides people Into light And into darkness Into life and death Into heaven and hell Ultimately What divides people Into these things Isn't morality

Not good intentions Or bad behaviour Not generosity Not religion No It's whether you have An intimate relationship With Jesus Christ Who is the life It's whether you've As John puts it Received him Whether you've come to know him Whether you've been Born of God And you see the final section Look at verses 14 to 18 We're going to concentrate on these The final section shows us Why that must be so It is because John tells us Not only is Jesus Christ himself The divine light of life Not only is he the Dividing light of judgment He is so Because he is Also Alone The definitive light Of the revelation of God He is God made known There is no other way Jesus is God made knowable To human beings on earth In all his glory

In all his majesty He is the revelation Of the glory And the grace of God In all its fullness For all time And in Jesus alone Therefore Is the answer to the who And the when And the where Questions In whom And when And where Do we find Ultimately The truth about God For all eternity Well you see These verses 14 to 18 Tell us That the revelation Of God Climaxes Uniquely In a glorious person In history And also As we'll see That it climaxes In a glorious place In human history First of all I want to think about This glorious person Look at verse 14 The word Became flesh And dwelled among us The one who Created the whole world Became flesh That's where we get Our word Incarnation It's the Latin word For enfleshment

And that's what Christmas is all about It's the celebration Of the incarnation Of the word Of God himself Coming down from heaven To become man In Jesus Christ Look at verse 18 It's very very clear Isn't it There's nothing Half baked about this It's the eternal Unseen God Moving from eternity Into history So that he can Make himself known It's the creator Of the entire universe Coming into the world That he's made So that we can know him Not just by his reputation By seeing what he's made And understanding Things about him From the world That we see But actually to know him Personally Ultimately It's almost impossible For us to imagine that Isn't it Because It really requires us To think outside The dimensions Of our own existence It's rather like The author of a play Coming onto the stage To fully explain Everything that he was saying In that play That he'd written And that's what

[ 15 : 21 ] That's what some of The Christmas carols At their finest Are grappling with Let earth and heaven Conspire Angels and men agree To praise in songs divine The incarnate deity Our God Contracted to a span Incomprehensibly Made man We can't adequately Understand it Of course But that is The message of Christmas That God himself Has invaded The world that he made And he did it So as to reveal himself To us So that we could know him Forever In the person Of his son Jesus Christ Now We don't have to Talk like this To realise That for such a thing To happen For For the unseen God To make himself known Well it must be A revelation from above Mustn't it From heaven to earth We could never find that out By inquiring From earth to heaven That's the hopeless quest

Of all religion Human religion All philosophy Begins with man And it says Well we'll We'll think about ourselves And we'll look up And we'll find our creator But you see That's as foolish as Well I don't know James Bond say Going to Q And saying Now look Q There must be an author Out there Who's made us all up And invented this film That we're in Can you make me a gadget To get us In rocket propelled boosters Outside this film So we can go and find Our creator You see that's preposterous Isn't it But you see That's what people are saying Like I was telling you I'm reading Richard Dawkins Book on the delusional God That's what people Like Richard Dawkins Are saying When they're saying We can't find any evidence For God In our world Well To think of my analogy How could James Bond Expect to find anything Of Ian Fleming When he's living In a world That Ian Fleming created He's his creator He lives in a world Totally beyond the universe That James Bond Knows and understands

But says John Though No one has ever Seen God How could they He lives in a universe Outside He has made himself Known And he's done it In his one and only son In a glorious person In history In Jesus Christ He's come Says verse 18 From the father's very side And come down Into our world And revealed himself To us And without that revelation Of course The skeptics Like Richard Dawkins And other people Well they would be right Of course Wouldn't they Without revelation Of God By God To human beings Well all human religion Is futile Of course it is It's folly It's ignorant No matter how learned It is That's what Paul Said by the way To the very clever professors In Athens Do you remember that In Acts chapter 17 They were very sophisticated people

Very intellectual people Always talking about Learning and philosophy And they had this altar To what they called The unknown God And Paul says Yes you worship Ignorantly Unknown Unknowingly By the way That's just the same word As agnostic Did you know that?

The Greek word for ignorant Is agnostic You don't get many people Going around saying I'm happy to be called An ignoramus But people do say I'm happy to be called agnostic Well that's what they're saying I'm an ignoramus But you see This is not Ignorant agnosticism That we're reading about Here in John's Gospel This is divine revelation It's God Opening up the picture And coming from another world And saying You may know me It's divine revelation It's unlike any other It's God making himself known In Jesus Christ A person in history In the flesh And he tells us That it's the climax Of God's revelation In two ways Do you see?

[ 19 : 23 ] Look at verse 14 It's the climax Of God's glory Made known We have seen his glory He dwelt among us John says Now that word there Literally Is the word tabernacle He tabernacled among us He pitched his tent among us Now John's readers Would know exactly What he's talking about He's referring to The tabernacle Which was the The portable temple That the Israelites had In the wilderness Later on it became The temple But that was the dwelling place Of God's glory On earth And John is saying To us that Even that Spectacular glory That used to sit Over the tabernacle As a pillar of cloud The Shekinah glory It was called Even that Has been vastly Superseded In the person Of Jesus Christ In history Because that's where The fullness of God's glory Is made known It's the fullness Of God's glory Then in verse 16

You see He tells us Not only is it The climax of God's glory But it's the climax Of his grace Made known in the world Do you see From his fullness We have received Grace Upon grace Now what does that mean Well he goes on In verse 17 To speak about The grace That came through Moses In the law On Mount Sinai And that was magnificent That was glorious Do you remember The mountain shaking And God coming down And giving His word To Moses For all his people Calling them To be his people And what John is saying All of that Magnificent splendour Was superseded By the grace That came At the first Christmas In the person Of Jesus Christ The flesh Of Jesus On Mount Sinai Moses had received The most magnificent Revelation of God Remember it was so wonderful He couldn't even look at it Because he would be blinded And God hid him In a crack in the rock And he walked past

Proclaiming Listen The Lord The Lord The compassionate And gracious God Abounding in grace In covenant love And in truth In faithfulness You see that was The great salvation Of grace and truth Revealed to Moses But you would think Nothing could better that But John says Well this does This is the crowning glory Of all the grace That Moses spoke of Of all that the prophets Spoke of Of all that the singers Of old spoke of This is the fulfilment Of everything It's the definitive light Of the revelation of God There's no more to see Of the glory And the grace of God Than is revealed to us In the person Of Jesus Christ A glorious Person In history And it's the climax And that's the message Of Christmas That's what we sang about In that wonderful carol Veiled in flesh

Peace Amen Amen Amen the life As fuck and will Amen CHOIR SINGS CHOIR SINGS

Well, in the person of God incarnate, yes, he was made flesh. But not just that. More than that. In the place where the word was made sin for the world of lost human beings.

Not just in Jesus incarnate, but in Jesus immolate, on the cross. That's where the ultimate revelation of the God of glory who made this world was seen with the eyes of human beings.

By real people in real history. You see, the cradle of Jesus and the cross of Jesus can never ever be separated in the Bible. Only together do they actually reveal to us the true glory and grace of God.

And that's why so many of the carols take us in that direction. Following the Savior whose cross, right from the very beginning, is overshadowing his cradle where he was born.

[ 30 : 28 ] Like Mary, let us ponder in our minds God's wondrous love in saving lost mankind. Trace we the babe who has redeemed our loss from his poor manger to his bitter cross.

Or here's another one. There was no room at Bethlehem for him who left his throne to seek the lost at countless cost and make our griefs his own.

But there was room at Calvary upon a cross of shame for him to die uplifted high and bear the sinner's blame. See, for John, that's the height, or if you like, the depth of the glory of God.

And he saw it with his own eyes. And that's the message that he proclaims to you. This is the one. That's what John the Baptist said. This is the definitive light of the revelation of the glory of God to our world.

Jesus Christ, born and crucified for sins. Of course, that's what explains why it's a divisive message.

[ 31 : 37 ] That's what explains why it's a glory that's rejected by so many people. Because it's so scandalous. No Jew could easily count as that kind of scandal.

God in the flesh? And God on a cross? Never. Muslim people today would find that very, very difficult to tolerate.

It's a blasphemy to even think in such terms. The secularists of our own culture find that just laughable and foolish and scorn it. But John says, I saw it.

I saw it with my own eyes. And it changed the world for me. It changed my life forever. See, at one time, John was just like you and me. He thought of glory in the same way as we do.

Glory for us. Achievement. Strength. Remember that story about him and his brother fighting over who was going to get to sit on Jesus' right hand or left hand in the kingdom? But then you see, a time came when John saw with his own eyes the true glory of the living God.

[ 32 : 41 ] In Jesus Christ, lifted up on the cross, crucified to save sinful human beings. And that's when God opened his eyes.

That's when God changed his heart. And those two things, you see, they always go together, don't they? Because when you see God's true glory in Christ, when you see his death on the cross for you and for your sins, then your heart's always changed.

It can't remain unchanged when you see that. If it's not changed, then you've now yet seen the true glory of our God and Maker. But friends, that's what John saw with his own eyes.

That's what he wrote down as a reliable witness, that you might believe. And having believed, find life in his name, in the name of Jesus Christ.

And that's the Christmas message. It's God's final word to men. It's the light of the glory of his being made known to us in his Son, Jesus Christ.

[ 33 : 45 ] And you know, Christmas, Christmas is a great time, a great time to open your eyes to the glory of Jesus.

It's always a great time to do that, but Christmas is an especially great time. And that's my prayer for you. That's our prayer here for all of you today. That God would open your eyes and keep opening them all through your life to see the truth of his glory made known ultimately in the person of Jesus Christ, his Son, who came into the world.

And in the place of the cross of Calvary, where having come into the world, he bore our sins that we might have the right to be called children of God.

And friends, when God opens your eyes to that, your heart is changed and your life is changed and your world is changed and nothing will ever, ever be the same again. Listen to these words.

Open your eyes to that this Christmas.

[ 35 : 13 ] Amidst all the celebrations. And it'll be a Christmas like none other. Well, we're going to sing our closing carol now that speaks of the God who came and who saved and who rose and who even now, where faith receives the word of his truth, imparts the life of his Spirit to our hearts to give us the seal of sonship to belong to Jesus Christ in councils of eternity before all worlds were formed.

[ 39 : 06 ] God bless you.

God bless you. God bless you. God bless you. God bless you. God bless you. I do hope you'll stay and enjoy mince pies with us, but we want to wish you a very, very happy Christmas.

And we trust that it will be a Christmas filled with the light of the glory of God in the face of our Lord Jesus Christ. Now a prayer as we close.

He may indeed send us his Holy Spirit to guard and keep our hearts throughout this life and into eternity as sons and daughters, as heirs of yours.

We praise you for the message of Christmas. We ask that it may thrill our hearts day by day and that all our praise and all our joy may be in you.

[ 40 : 58 ] For we ask it in Jesus Christ our Saviour's name. Amen. Well do stay and enjoy the mince pies. There's books here on the table and CDs as well.

If you've got last minute Christmas presents you want to make, there will be some very good things there to share the message of Christmas with others. But we rejoice in having you here with us and have a very happy Christmas.
